RE: California Proposition 65 and Avient Corporation Product(s):

Avient Code	Description
EM1002025460	RT3830-549 Natural

Dear Sir or Madam:

The purpose of this letter is to respond to your request regarding information on California's Proposition 65 (Prop 65) and its application to the above Avient product(s).

The California Safe Drinking Water and Toxic Enforcement Act of 1986 (California Health and Safety Code), better known as Proposition 65, requires the governor of California to publish a list of chemicals known to the state to cause cancer or reproductive toxicity. The California Environmental Protection Agency (Cal/EPA), which administers Proposition 65, has been delegated the authority to develop and revise this list. Proposition 65 establishes two prohibitions regarding use of listed chemicals. First, no person in the course of doing business may knowingly discharge or release a significant amount of a listed chemical into drinking water or into or onto land where it will pass into a source of drinking water. Second, no person in the course of doing business may knowingly expose any individual to a significant amount of a listed chemical without first providing a clear and reasonable warning to such individual.

It should be noted that simply because a component is subject to Prop 65 does not mean that a warning for the finished product is required. Prop 65 warning requirements are dependent on the anticipated level of exposure to components subject to Prop 65 resulting from foreseeable uses of a product. The warning requirements will only apply if the foreseeable and intended uses of a product containing these materials are likely to result in exposures above what are referred to as "significant risk" or "observable effect" levels. A determination of "significant risk" or "observable effect" can only be made with full knowledge of the end uses and applications of the products. Avient does not control or have complete knowledge of the end uses to which you or your customers put our materials.

Therefore, the decision to include or not include a Prop 65 notice must ultimately rest with your company and your customers. We hope the information provided above is helpful as you decide how to proceed.

The product(s) in question does not intentionally contain listed Prop 65 substances. Additional information can be found by visiting: <http://www.oehha.org/prop65.html>
